Dear Alden May,

Thank you for your registration. Please read all the information in full.

You have enrolled into a blended learning course. To obtain your certification, you will need to first complete the online coursework linked below and then attend the hands-on skills training in person as scheduled. The online course typically takes about 3 hours to complete.

Please be sure to bring proof of completion to the in-person session on the day/time you signed up for.

Helpful tips to access your online completion certificate: Once you have reached the end of the online instruction a 'Congratulations' screen appears, and it should prompt you to complete a mandatory five question survey. Be sure to do the survey as this will then trigger a completion email to be sent to you and then allow for you to access your online completion certificate within the American Red Cross website. This certificate is the preferred proof of completion our instructors like to see when students arrive at their scheduled in-person skills session.

You may bring a printout of the completion certificate or can show a picture on your mobile device.

Should you have difficulty, simply use the chat/help option found on the Red Cross website and they will walk you through the process or point out any unfinished modules that could be the issue.

The course will begin promptly at the start time so please be sure to arrive on time. Late students may be asked to reschedule. Please check the location of your training in advance so you can plan ahead for commute time.

Below are your specific course details. Please note that if it is a blended course to complete the online training linked below. If you are signing up for CNA training, the link will be sent in a separate email).
